

Focus on Faculty and Programs

Increased Opportunities to Research and Share

Imagine how increased opportunities will help faculty shape the world.

As Burman professors teach and research, they foster learning and student success.

- $2 Million: Focus on Faculty and Programs

Burman faculty are passionate about education and are committed to excellence in the classroom. They know that participating in workshops and courses will allow them to foster student learning more effectively.

Because their goal is student success, professors strive to access emerging opportunities and program enhancements.

They also wish to increase research productivity to fulfill provincial requirements and to benefit students, the community, and the world.

Capital gifts and endowments will make it possible to enhance faculty training and research and to make program enhancements a reality.

Our Mission | Burman University will educate students to think with discernment, to believe with insight and commitment, and to act with confidence, compassion, and competence.
