Transcript Requests

Burman University is now part of the MyCreds academic credential distribution system. This system is different from the conventional transcript request service. MyCreds is an electronic delivery system. From it you send a secure, tamper-proof digital copy of documents. YOU choose how and when your academic documents are sent to others. This is how the system works at Burman.

Fill out the Transcript Request form (See the Burman website.)

Once we receive your request, Registrar Services will upload your most recent transcript to MyCreds.

You will be sent a notification to the email specified in your transcript request that your document has been uploaded to MyCreds. The email will contain a link to direct you to MyCreds.

You will create your account and login.

From your “digital wallet” you can choose who to send your transcript to. YOU MUST DO THIS. Requesting a transcript from Burman ONLY uploads it to MyCreds. You are the one who controls distribution.

You can enter an email address of the person/organization you want to send the document to, or

You may choose from a drop-down list of schools/organizations that have an association with MyCreds and send it directly to them.

You can do this as many times as you like. Once your transcript is in your digital wallet you do not have to request a transcript ever again from Registrar Services unless you want an updated transcript sent to your digital wallet.

If for some reason you require a paper transcript, you will need to indicate that on the Transcript Request Form.

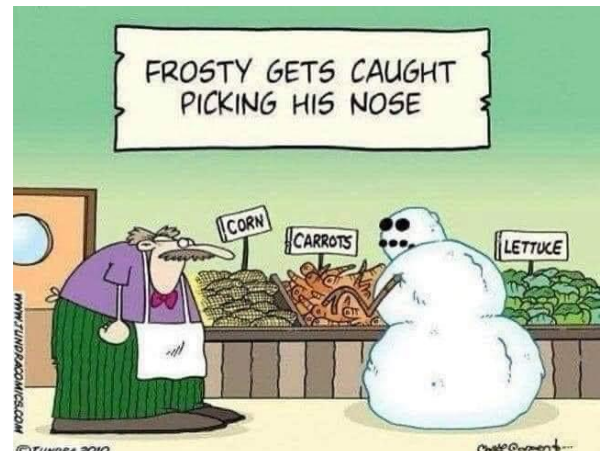

There are charges for rush delivery (either through MyCreds or paper) and courier services.

Burman University ΣΥΜΦΩΝΙΑ Conference 2022 Call for Papers

On Wednesday, March 16, 2022, the Music and Religious Studies departments of Burman University, in partnership with GlossaHouse and the Graphē Institute, will host the 2nd annual ΣΥΜΦΩΝΙΑ Conference. The planning committee for the conference invites proposals for collaborative paper-performances and papers that examine the intersection of biblical interpretation and musical interpretation.

The conference will be virtual again this year, which will allow presenters and attendees from around the world to participate. Presentations will be limited to 20 minutes with 10 minutes for discussion and questions.

- Collaborative paper-performances bring together research in biblical exegesis of Greek, Hebrew, or Aramaic Scripture and an original musical arrangement that expresses the structure, syntax, and meaning of the text as described in the exegetical work. Musical arrangements should be recorded and edited prior to the conference and should consist of a high quality audio or video (preferred) recording. The conference prefers musical arrangements of Greek texts to utilize either a koine-era or a modern pronunciation scheme. Please see the attached video introduction of the conference for more details.
- Scholarly papers will follow regular standards of oral delivery. A slideshow to go with oral presentations is not required but welcomed.

Proposals of 250 words in length should be submitted to stephenreasor@burmanu.ca or eduardosola@burmanu.ca no later than January 28, 2022.

We look forward to a day of stimulating music and research!
