Accessibility-Public Rights & Business Duties

Gerald Chipeur, QC

Gerald Chipeur, QC will address accessibility from a business perspective. Gerry has practiced law in Canada for over 35 years and has appeared in the Supreme Court of Canada on over two dozen appeals, including appeals involving the duty of the employer to make a reasonable accommodation.

In his last four court cases, he has argued for:

- Indigenous self-government on behalf of Siksika Nation, before the Court of Appeal of Alberta
- The constitutionality of the Mental Health Act civil confinement provisions on behalf of Alberta Health Services, before the Court of Appeal of Alberta
- The unconstitutionality of the Manitoba Emergency Public Health Act Order prohibiting drive-in church on behalf of Springs Church, before the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench
- The absence of constitutional jurisdiction of Canada over provincial health care records, before the Federal Court of Canada

SMILE OF THE DAY

- * Why did the chicken cross the road? Because the chicken behind it didn't know how to socially distance properly.
- * My mom always told me I wouldn't accomplish anything by lying in bed all day. But look at me now, ma! I'm saving the world!
- * I never thought the comment "I wouldn't touch them with a six-foot pole" would become a national policy, but here we are!
