

EDFO 304 – Philosophy of Education

Course Description

EDFO 304 is a foundational course in philosophy of education. The focus is to expose students to the various philosophies and theories of education that are prevalent in today's classrooms and to encourage them to reflect on their own personal philosophy of education and practices in their classrooms. There is also a critical look at the Christian philosophy of education, with emphasis on Christ's principles and methods of teaching as the foundation for most philosophies of our contemporary time.
