

EDFO 304 Philosophy of Education – COURSE DESCRIPTION

EDFO 304 is a foundational course in philosophy of education. The focus is to expose students to the various philosophies and theories of education that are prevalent in today's classrooms and to encourage them to reflect on their own personal philosophy classrooms. of education and practices in their There is also a critical look at the Christian philosophy of education, with emphasis on Christ's principles and methods of teaching as the foundation for most philosophies of our contemporary time.

This class is organized by weeks with an Orientation Week prior to the beginning of the four-week intensive. The Orientation must be completed before you will be allowed to start the intensive. Please introduce yourself in D2L during the Orientation Week. The course will require 80 – 120 hours of study. Students are independent learners who must complete readings, videos, and assignments to meet personal and institutional deadlines. The content is arranged in four weeks of study. Tasks for each unit should be completed within the week allotted and the final task must be submitted by the last day of class.